CAP Journal

On mark with current leadership research and insight

Members are provided a quality journal comprised of works from Canadian educational researchers and leaders. The CAP Journal serves as a source of professional information and knowledge for principals and vice-principals. As a member, you will also have access to CAP Journal's archived issues!

CAP Conference

Network with leaders across the country

Members are invited to attend an Annual Leadership Conference. The CAP conference addresses the current national trends in education and provides an opportunity to network with leaders across the country.

You are eligible for CAP awards!

During the conference, the excellence in our profession is recognized with awards for Distinguished Principal and Vice-Principal.

CAP also recognizes the work and competency of students by providing a provincial Student Leadership Scholarship.

Through our direct and online presence, CAP strives to connect leaders to resources and provides a venue to disseminate information nationally.

CAP has positioned itself as the conduit for national research in the area of education leadership. Our commitment to identifying trends and influences will shape the work of school leaders now and in the future.

The significance and relevance of CAP's work to members is evidenced in its successes to facilitate and improve the status of principals and vice-principals nationally.

Education leaders need to be informed and involved in order to facilitate success and improve the presence of principals and vice-principals in Canadian schools.
